NAIT's style is hands-on, and our focus is on practical education geared to the real world. Our instructors have first-hand experience in their fields, and want to share those insights with you. Our labs are fitted with industry-relevant technology and equipment, giving you a valuable head start. And our program curriculum, in addition to keeping up with the needs of employers, includes practicum components to give you workplace experience.

Our class sizes are kept small, meaning you get personalized attention from instructors.

You're an individual here, and our staff and services are focused on your success.

NAIT has built its outstanding reputation on its connections to business and industry. Employers know that NAIT grads are job-ready. Last year 95 per cent of NAIT grads were working shortly after graduation. Many were recruited right on campus. And grads who want to continue their education will find that their NAIT diploma is a stepping stone to a growing number of advanced learning opportunities.
